ALLERGIES

Isabella has mild allergies to certain pollens and dust mites, leading to seasonal sneezing. She also reacts with stomach discomfort to shellfish, though not considered a severe allergy.

MEDICAL HISTORY

Isabella has a history of mild asthma diagnosed in childhood, now well-controlled with inhalers. She had a laparoscopic appendectomy in 2018 with full recovery and no complications.

PAST MEDICATIONS

Previously used Albuterol inhaler occasionally for asthma during seasonal changes or viral illnesses. Used antibiotics (Amoxicillin) for occasional sinus infections. No history of chronic medications.

PHYSICIAN NOTES

Isabella was seen today for complaints of intermittent abdominal bloating and fatigue. She has been advised to initiate a low FODMAP diet and maintain a symptom diary. Plan to follow up in 4 weeks.
